

July 2011

Alliant Mexico City was recently designated an examination center for more than 150 U.S. professional organizations ranging from the Certification Commission of the National Association of Medical Staff Services to the Institute of Business Analysis and the New York State Education Department Psychoanalyst examinations.

Dissertation Process Goes Green

In the interest of a “greener,” more efficient and less costly dissertation process, all Alliant campuses will begin implementing electronic submission of dissertation and doctoral projects through the ProQuest/ETD website beginning in the fall semester. ProQuest is the organization that makes dissertations available through libraries around the world. The electronic process has already been used on the LA campus successfully. Watch for upcoming announcements as this process begins on our campus.

Milestones this summer

- July 1 marked the tenth anniversary of the merger of CSPP and USIU, and the establishment of Alliant International University
- July 1 was also the first anniversary of the merger of San Francisco Law School into the Alliant family of schools.
- On July 13, the University Provost Russ Newman announced that WASC has renewed accreditation of AIU for eight years. While our reaccreditation was never in doubt, the length of time we were awarded represents a significant vote of confidence for the work we are doing.
