

July 2011

Alliant Recognized for Educational Excellence for Minorities

Great news! Alliant has AGAIN been recognized as a leader in the graduate education of U.S. ethnic minorities, as published in Diverse: Issues in Higher Education Magazine:

- We are #1 in doctoral degrees in Psychology to African Americans, Asian Americans, Hispanics, and Native Americans.
- We rank #3 in master's degrees in Psychology, Mental/Social Services, and Allied Professions to Asian Americans.
- We are #6 in doctoral degrees across ALL disciplines to Hispanics.
- We rank #8 in doctoral degrees in Business to ethnic minorities.
- We are #12 in doctoral degrees in ALL disciplines to ethnic minorities.
- We rank #18 in doctoral degrees in Education to Asian Americans.

These high rankings reflect Alliant's institutional commitment to multiculturalism and diversity and our collective achievements in promoting higher education access and success for historically disadvantaged ethnic minorities.

These rankings remind us of what's special about Alliant....and they inspire us to do an even better job of creating an inclusive educational environment where people from diverse backgrounds are welcomed and affirmed, and are able to thrive.

For a complete list of Alliant's rankings, click here for doctoral degrees, and here for master's degrees. For the full list of Diverse magazine's rankings, click here.